ANDERSON IN SEARCH OF SUCCESS AT MID-OHIO

"With solid outings in the previous two races, Scott is eager to get back to the rolling ribbon of asphalt at Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course and a shot at the podium."

Fort Collins, Colorado - Scott Anderson, driver of the #77 Schmidt Peterson Motorsports Indy Lights car wrapped up the final oval race of the season at Iowa Speedway with a solid run. The two practice sessions were strong for Anderson, setting the second quickest lap in the second of two sessions. Anderson was third quick in the first session. Scott would end up P5 in the single car qualifying session. He would soldier on and cross the finish line in the sixth spot in the demanding 100-lap feature race. While not quite showing the speed the team carried over from Milwaukee, Anderson and his SPM crew just missed the setup on the very tight confines of the 7/8 mile banked track.

"There were some big ups and downs at Iowa," comments Anderson. "I think we were the strongest overall car during practice; fast on our own and we were able to run well in traffic. Unfortunately, we lost that speed on race day. We didn't qualify great and had a pretty sketchy start of the race and dropped back to sixth. It's unfortunate because I really think we were in a good position to win that one, but there are some good things we can take from that weekend and move on the the next!"

The Indy Lights contingent moves back into road course mode as they take to the classic, natural road circuit of the Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course. Over 2.2 miles of asphalt contour the midwestern terrain with 13 turns rolling drivers through several elevation changes.

"I'm really excited for Mid-Ohio," smiles Anderson. "Our test there was rained out so it's hard to say where we'll be compared to everyone else, but it's a place I've always run well; I've had some wins, and I've always enjoyed it."

The #77 Anderson Podiatry Centers, with support from Hull & Knarr, LLP, Indy Lights powered by Cooper Tires Championship entry is on track Friday, July 31st for two practice sessions. Saturday, August 1st, will see qualifying in the morning followed by race one in the afternoon. Sunday, August 2nd, will host the second feature race of the double-header weekend of racing.
